Woman.

Is it not strange, after all the Bible says of woman and women, ladies should be preferred by many of her sex. "She shall be called woman," is the very first intimation that we have of her name. We read of the gentle, loving Ruth, the queenly Esther, and Elizabeth, the mother of John, all as women, and she who was the most exalted of all, Mary, the mother of Jesus. If lady had been a superior title, or something equivalent to it, it surely would have been conferred upon her. True, she was poor, the wife of a carpenter, her babe was born in a manger, yet the angels rejoiced, and the morning stars sang together, as she (a woman) held the child in her arms. Who bathed the Saviour's feet with her tears, and followed Him to the cross and tomb, and received the first blessing of the risen Lord? Woman. Ever kind and compassionate, the very name seems to breathe of love and adoration.

In all ages, noble, heroic women were the mothers of true, brave men. Our grandmothers and great-grandmothers were all women; they loved their husbands, taught their children and made home happy; their sons grew up and called them blessed. The words, woman, mother, and home, form the golden links that keeps society together; there seems a comfort in each word, but the word LADY brings to our mind's eye sickly children, little graves, a disorderly house, and a bankrupt husband. It is this love of show that is ruining the American people; we want women, good and true, to preside over the homes of their husbands and children, to fill the places that God intended them to fill, directing the minds of sons and daughters to future usefulness for themselves and fellow creatures. The perpetuity and greatness of nations depend on the high moral culture of the women.

Looking Back.

Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, once said in a speech at a public dinner in Memphis:

I have written some bitter things of men who have since passed away from the earth, and whose memories I revere, and on whose graves I could shed tears of sorrow and regret. Ah! when I look back through the twenty-six years of my editorial life, and think how many I once denounced who afterwards became my personal friends, or proved themselves their country's friends, and how many I once eulogized and toiled for who have since turned their hand ruthlessly and causelessly against me—when I reflect how often the most ardurous and devoted political services are forgotten by those for whom they are done—and when I remember how many of my political friends have striven to crush me, and how many Democrats have gathered around me as a band of brothers in the days of my personal peril, I should be guilty of an outrage on my own conscience and on every feeling and impulse of my heart, if I were not to weed out from my nature the partisan bitterness that once flourished there.

Leap Year.

This is leap year, and the fact will add interest to the following extract from an old volume printed in 1708, entitled Courtship, Love and Matrimony.

Albeit, it has now become a part of the common law in regard to the social relations of life, that as often as every bissextile year doth return, the ladies have the sole privilege during the time it continueth of making love unto men, which they may do either by words or looks, as unto them seemeth proper, and, moreover, no man will be entitled to the benefit of clergy who doth refuse to accept the offers of a lady, or who doth in any wise treat her proposal with slight or contumely.

Beautiful Answers.

A pupil of Abbe Sicord gave the following extraordinary answers:

Q.—What is gratitude?

A.—Gratitude is the memory of the heart.

Q.—What is hope?

A.—Hope is the blossom of happiness.

Q.—What is the difference between hope and desire?

A.—Desire is a tree in leaf, hope is a tree in flowers, and enjoyment is a tree in fruit.

Q.—What is eternity?

A.—A day without yesterday or to-morrow; a day without end.

Q.—What is time?

A.—A line that has two ends—a path that begins in the cradle and ends in the grave.

The Philosophy of Law.

Every human law not founded on natural law must, sooner or later, fall to the ground. If it is a natural law that no man shall interfere with his fellow except to prevent his interference with his fellows, a law establishing such interference will be both useless and harmful. If moral ends can be attained by moral means alone, legislative enactments will be none the less impertinent and invalid because they are framed from benevolent motives.—Gail Hamilton.

Among all the poor horses in the army of Northern Virginia, during the winter of 1864-5, few, if any, came nearer being literally skin and bones, than the one owned by the Adjutant of the 27th North Carolina regiment. On one occasion, the Sergeant Major of this regiment, having to pass through the camp of Davis' Mississippi brigade, on this horse, was very much annoyed by the remarks made concerning both horse and rider. At last, when he had almost passed the last regiment, and was congratulating himself on being nearly out of their reach, one fellow rushed out of his tent, and called to him in a very earnest manner.

"Mister, mister, hold on a minute."

The Sergeant thinking, from the innocent look and earnest manner of the man, that he must have business with him, halted. The fellow coming up, inquired very innocently:

"Are you going to the tanyard?"

"No," replied the Sergeant, "why do you ask that?"

"Oh, nothing," said the soldier, "only I was going to advise you to take the bones out of that hide before you get there, or they won't receive it."

"Larry, said a coquettish young lady to her cousin prematurely bald, 'why is your head like heaven?' 'Don't know, I'm sure,' replied the swell; unless, indeed, because it has a shining crown.' 'Good, but not correct. Because there is no more dying or parting there!'

The leading Radicals admit that the present "infamous Congress" is acting "outside of the Constitution." Then, why don't they insist that men, instead of swearing to support the Constitution, shall swear to support everything outside of it, asks the Louisville Journal.

A little girl once hearing the remark that old people had once been children, artlessly inquired, "Who took care of the babies?"

Raleigh, Wednesday, February 5, 1868.

THE Conservative State Convention, will assemble in this city to-day, a sufficient number of delegates having arrived, we suppose, to secure an organization. In point of talent, worth and influence, the body will be eminently respectable; numbering among its members some of the most distinguished citizens of North Carolina.

The Convention assembles at a most critical period in our history. Its members have come together to consult as to what is best to be done to avoid the dangers which threaten the peace and the prosperity of the Commonwealth. We beg, on this its opening day, to submit a few facts worthy of their serious consideration. We believe that gratitude, interest and duty require that the Convention shall, to-day, discard the title Conservative and by the adoption of the name Democratic, place itself and the people in accord with the ONLY NATIONAL ORGANIZATION from which the people of the Southern States can expect or receive assistance. Every man recognizes the fact that our only hope of safety from present and impending evils lies in the success of that party in the approaching Presidential campaign. We know that its triumph is our deliverance—its failure, our destruction.

If the demon spirit of radicalism is to be exorcised from our national politics and driven from our legislative halls; if we are to be spared the insufferable disgrace attending the admission of brutal and bestial negroes to the ballot and the jury-box; if, in a word, the white men of North Carolina and the South, are to remain custodians of her rights and her honor, the blissful result must come from the courage and the devotion with which Northern Democrats shall conduct the campaign of 1868. We ask now, as heretofore, shall we receive the benefit and refuse a return? Accept the aid and deny the obligation? We believe that such a course were unworthy of us, unmanly, ungenerous and ungrateful.

We shall enter upon no defence of the Democratic party. It needs none. Its principles and its conduct speak a language far more eloquent and persuasive than any we can command. Proclaiming as the cardinal doctrine of its political faith, that this is a white man's government and should be controlled by white men only; announcing its unqualified opposition to negro suffrage and its consequence, negro supremacy in the States of the South; denouncing the acts of Congress concerning reconstruction as violative of the Constitution, unjust and tyrannical, and promising, in case of success, relief from all the ills we bear or that may come to us, it invites the co-operation of the white men of the South. Mississippi has answered, by delegating Sharkey and Yerger and Handy to represent her in the meeting of the National Democratic Executive Committee which meets in the City of Washington, on the 22d instant, to appoint the time and place for the assembling of the National Democratic Convention for the nomination of the candidate of the party for the Presidency. The invitation has been extended to North Carolina. What answer shall she return to this offer of conciliation, fraternity and assistance? Shall she be represented in neither of these important assemblies? Have her citizens no interest in these matters? No choice among the several gentlemen who have been named in connection with the Presidency? No regard for the abilities and character of the nominee? We believe that the State should be represented in both of these meetings, that it would be ingratitude and folly to sacrifice her good to a prejudice, and that she should send her ablest citizens to consult with those already chosen from other States upon subjects which so gravely concern her welfare. The invitation comes from a Democratic committee, and is made to Democrats—not Democrats of the past, necessarily, but Democrats of to-day, upon present issues—gentlemen, who endorse the principles of the Democracy, and are ready to do battle in Democratic ranks for Democratic triumphs. We plead for principles—for measures—not men. We desire harmony in our counsels, and concert in our action. "Let the dead past bury its dead." We live for present and for future things. Perish the memory of our feuds and bickerings! In this great struggle for our liberties and our traditions, we can afford to forget them. Let us do right, act justly, and leave the result with God.

We submit these facts with all proper deference to the members of the Conservative Convention. We beg that they will ponder them. If the course we have suggested shall meet their approval, and be endorsed by their action, we shall most gladly give whatever of ability and influence we may possess to the furtherance of the common cause. If it shall not be so fortunate, we shall continue, as we have begun, fearlessly, earnestly and honestly to maintain the tenets of our faith, confidently expecting time and the development of events to vindicate our motives and our conduct.

The Cheerful Congos and Cotton Shirters at the Capital.

(OUR SPECIAL REPORTER UNDER THE TABLE.)

[The reader is particularly requested to remember the fact that no Reporter for this paper is allowed on the floor, in the halls or in the galleries of the Convention, and consequently our reports are made from under the table, behind the scenes, or as may be otherwise ordered and convenient.]

NINETEENTH DAY.

TUESDAY, Feb. 4, 1868.

As the hands on the legislative dial denoted 10 o'clock, we looked out from our place of concealment, at the feet of the "trooly loil" nigger reporter on the floor, and spied Mr. Manager Cowles at his post. Bringing his little wooden mallet down with a vim on the counter before him, the somewhat noisy and of late unruly "Cotton Shirters" took seats, and the House was supposed to be, what is known in parliamentary "slang" as, called to order.

Rev. Mr. Hudson, of the City, being present, was requested to pray.

The Journal of Monday was read, compared with, and corrected by the North Carolinian's report of the previous day.

The chair announced a letter from Canby, chief of the choir, which was read, acknowledging the reception of a letter from Messrs. Abbott and Ragland in regard to the pay of mileage, per diem, &c., wherein hope was held out that the money would be forthcoming at no distant day.

Mr. Jones, of Washington, felt reinvigorated by the cheering news, and, with renewed loyalty, moved that the Finance Committee be instructed to report a tax bill by Thursday morning next. Carried amid good-humored smiles of general satisfaction, the entire troupe joining in the chorus.

PETITIONS, MEMORIALS, ETC.

Rev. Mr. Welker, hailing from the historic old county of Guilford, in that hollow, hypocritical, pulpit-canting style, peculiar to him and others like him, "who steal the livery of heaven to serve the devil in," presented a memorial from a citizen of Guilford, praying a prohibition on the distillation of grain into intoxicating drink.

Much was said pro and con on this matter, and many letters mentioned as coming from persons in various portions of the State, relating how the distillation of grain was entailing suffering and want on the poor.

One old gentleman in the "sere and yellow leaf" remarked to the speaker that they did "still it," and that, too, "with a vengeance." Beside, he said, this was not all, "they charged a mighty big price for it when they had stilled it," upon which last fact seemed to rest the burden of his complaint. The matter was finally referred to Gen. Canby for his action in the premises.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. Rodman from the Judiciary Committee, presented the following reports:

An ordinance in regard to the holding of offices. The Committee begged to be discharged from its further consideration.

Resolution, introduced by Mr. Hare, respecting debts of deceased persons.

An ordinance in relation to the election of Judges. Committee had reported on this ordinance before.

Resolution in regard to the proving of private conveyances. The Committee asked that the law stand as it is.

Resolution providing that the General Assembly shall provide by law that mechanics and laborers shall have a lien on this subject matter of their labor. Report adopted.

Resolution providing for the admission of Attorneys to the bar from other States. Being put upon its passage, it was decided—ayes 78, noes 20.

The resolution reads: "Be it ordained by the people of North Carolina, in Convention assembled, and it is hereby ordained by authority of the same, That any person who shall produce a certificate of admission to the bar of any other State, and satisfactory evidence of good moral character, before the Supreme Court of the State, shall be admitted to the practice of law in the several Courts of the State, upon payment of the fees prescribed by law; and this ordinance shall be in force from and after its passage."

An ordinance providing for a change in the usury laws. The Committee recommend that the laws be unchanged.

An ordinance for the protection of labor. Report was adopted.

A petition in regard to the divorce of Nancy D. Hopkins from her husband, of Granville county.

Mr. King, of Lenoir, moved to lay on the table. (He had just returned from a visit home, understood the married state to some extent, and appreciated it too highly to acknowledge its violability.)

The vote being called and the chair being unable to decide, he called the ayes and noes, which resulted as follows—ayes 51, noes 49. Laid on the table.

Resolution respecting usury laws, with request that it be left to the action of the Legislature.

We knew the hour for arranging the chair's toilet had arrived, but from our position under the table, we could not see a wink, crammed down as we were by the nigger reporter's huge feet. The Cotton Shirters were out of order at this point, and Mr. Manager rapped furiously, and in no equable temper commanded "silence," calling despairingly on the door keepers to enforce order, forgetting or purposely ignoring the Sergeant-at-Arms, who sat at the foot of the chair in the attitude of one seeking something to do, or to devour.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

Mr. Forkner moved to reconsider the vote on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company.

Mr. Ellis wished to have the calendar taken up.

Mr. French, of Bladen, did not wish to have the vote reconsidered as too much time would be consumed.

Here the chair evidently wanted to say something, but could not exactly get it out. It was subsequently ascertained that the vote of "yistidy" was weighing on the august mind.

Mr. Manager Cowles then decided that the motion to lay on the table was the question before the house, and called the ayes and noes, which resulted—ayes 67; noes 40. Laid on the table.

Mr. Rodman moved that the report from the Committee on Relief be taken up—it being the first coming under the head of unfinished business.

It was decided to be out of order, as 12 o'clock was the proper time.

The President here announced the following Committee, provided for by Hood's resolution, memorializing Congress for a removal of political disabilities, &c.

First Congressional District—Dr. Nicholson.
Second Congressional District—R. W. King.
Third Cangressional District—Mr. Hay.
Fourth Congressional District—Mr .Tourgee.
Fifth Congressional District—Mr. Hood.
Sixth Congressional District—Mr. Forkner.
Seventh Congressional District—Mr. C. C. Jones.
Eighth Congressional District—Mr. Gahagan.

CALENDAR.

Mr. King, of Lenoir, asked leave to have his resolution in regard to the business of the Convention, re-considered. Objected to.

The ordinance of Mr. Jones, of Caldwell, in regard to reading bills before their passage, was next called up, and

Mr. Abbott moved it be referred to the Committee on rules. He accepted the motion of Mr. King, of Lenoir, to revive the Committee on Rules. Vote was taken, and it was accordingly referred.

RELIEF BILL.

Mr. Abbott moved to suspend the rules and take up the resolution instructing the Secretary of the Convention to prepare the amount of mileage each member was entitled to.

The rules were suspended and the resolution adopted.

The Relief Bill then coming up,

Mr. Rodman said any measure this Convention might adopt would be the law of the land, and that it would meet with the approbation of the people. That we have been unfortunate in making crops is no reason why we should delay our creditors. What is the nature of relief we should give creditors of North Carolina? He could see no distinction between the proposition of the delegate from Orange and the proposition by the Committee, except that the proposition of the first is to pay the debt a little earlier. He did not think that any time less than ten years could be sufficient to make a compromise. He thought that a homestead ought to be secured to every person in North Carolina, and was willing to support such, but did not think any measure that might be put in the Constitution would protect the homestead of the debtor. He referred to the manner in which the Bankrupt Law was carried out.

Mr. Graham, of Orange, said that he had stated in a former discussion that he doubted the power of this Convention to legislate. Admitting for the present, the Constitutionality of the Reconstruction Acts, must the Convention not follow the letter of the law. He had heard gentlemen who claim that this Convention had full and sovereign power, quote Judge Gaston as their authority. He did not so understand him (Judge G.) He says "according to the theory of our Government, all political power was derived from the people, and when they choose to make a grant of power, they might make a plenary or restricted grant, might give it all or in part." Mr. G. took it for granted that delegates claim authority for this Convention from the fact that the proposition of Congress has been approved by the people. Are not conditions prescribed in that proposition, and is it not to be regarded as our power of attorney. He closed by saying, let us petition Congress on this subject to extend the time and enlarge the exemption. By doing this and adopting the ordinance I proposed, we will give the relief and leave the people to vote as they choose upon the adoption of the Constitution we may make, and not endeavor to force upon them a constitution they may detest by taking advantage of their necessities.

Mr. McDonald, of Chatham—The delegate from Orange argues that we ought to do nothing for relief and apply to General Canby to enforce some such measure. It was an admission that the Convention was powerless. He believed General Canby would sanction anything the Convention might do. The delegate from Orange thought the Bankrupt Law might remain as a relief. He thought so too until the Convention did something for further relief—at present the legal gentlemen and assignees, were the ones who were being benefitted by this law. He believed the people would reject any Constitution that did not contain some measure for relief, and that was what the opposition party desired above all things. Congress had the power to do anything—it was the supreme law of the land—did not believe the State was out of the Union; never had been, but when the first gun was fired at Fort Sumpter it severed all our relations to the Federal Government. He believed in Congress as the ruling power. The Government of the United States had been too lenient. He was for relief. He contended that the taxes were more than the people could bear—he wanted the thing reverted, and the people would revert it. He did not want to see the people pressed to the wall. If the property of North Carolina was put under the hammer to-day, it would not bring one-tenth of its private indebtedness. Lay aside every thing and stand up to your constituents—the people are the power. When the matter was brought up for action he would have the ayes and nays. He intended the people should see who was trying to dodge the matter—there should be no dodging.

Several members here rose to speak, and points of order were raised as to who was in order.

The President decided in favor of Mr. Jones' but the Chair was not sustained.

Mr. Rodman then had the floor, but yielded it to

Mr. Jones, of Washington, who said he did not intend to occupy much of the time of the Convention. He spoke at some length, in opposition to Mr. Graham of Orange. He argued that before the war the laboring man could not get in debt. That when a poor man wanted credit he would have to take his two barrels of turpentine, or a little corn to market, and promise to pay up the following Saturday night—a sufficient watch was kept over them, and their little earnings to prevent them from getting in debt. The proposition before the house was a proposition to relieve the poor man. If you vote for the proposition of the gentleman from Orange, if I understand it, you vote for the present stay law.

Mr. Watts, (the roaring lion,) Do I understand you to be opposed to any relief for the people of North Carolina?

Mr. Jones, of Washington—No. I wish a straight out relief. He said he would favor any measure that came up that merited his approval—if not, he would make a lick at it. He called for the reading of his substitute, which was published on yesterday.

Considerable debate was here had in regard to an amendment to Mr. Graham's substitute, offered by Mr. Tourgee. The latter gentleman appealed to the chair.

The Chair decided Mr. Graham's substitute, out of order, and asked if the House would sustain him in the decision, which after a vote was done.

Mr. Tourgee, gave notice that he would offer the amendment, and believed it would meet with the appropriation of the Convention and the people at large.

Mr. Abbott hoped a vote would be taken on the report with the amendment of Mr. Tourgee.

Mr. Fullings of Mecklenburg, "brass buttons," who wears a good suit of store clothes, cited an incident as follows:—A wealthy individual owes a poor tailor for making clothes for his son previous to the war. The tailor comes to him and asks for his dues, and the wealthy man says he cannot afford to pay it. He could not sacrifice his thousands of acres to pay a significant debt of $50 or $100. Mr. F. then asked what measure of relief could be made to relieve that poor tailor? That was the point he wanted to understand.—He did not think the passage of stay laws would afford any relief. As he said before, these laws were only designed to protect the property of the rich man. He owed money, and wanted to pay it—he intended to pay it, but he had ten times more owing him than he owed. He wanted some measure of relief adopted, but such a relief as would extend to all.

Mr. King of Lincoln, said he would hold that as an honest man would pay his debts, no relief bill would do any good or extend any benefits except to the rascals. He was opposed to any Stay Law. If any Stay Law was to be passed it should have a provision to protect the property of the debtor against the creditor.

Galloway, nigger, of New Hanover, said that he was sorry that this thing had not been postponed until Saturday, as first suggested. He did not want to see a Stay Law passed that would protect one class and not the whole. He was willing to vote for it, if the relief extended to all parties. He was opposed to repudiation. He did not believe that the poor whites or the blacks would be willing to repudiate the debts. He was opposed to anything that would repudiate any honest debts contracted either by a white or black man. All the people asked of this Convention was time to pay their debts. He had all to gain or all to lose. All the relief the colored people asked was civil rights. They did not ask the repudiation of any honest debt, either State or individual, but if it was a debt contracted for slaves or for carrying on a war against the best government the sun ever shone upon, he would vote for it. The colored people were the bone and sinew of the land. Without them the land in the State would go to market. He had not seen the first letter from a colored man asking relief. If you want to give the people relief adopt the Constitution and submit it to the people, and not be here at the expense to them of a large per diem.

Hood, nigger, of Cumberland, moved that the whole matter be laid upon the table. He was in favor of a good Homestead Law.

Mr. Rodman said he agreed with him in regard to a good Homestead Law.

He hoped a vote would be taken on the subject. He believed if the Convention adopted Mr. Graham's ordinance the people would be depending upon a broken straw for relief.

Mr. Rich, of Pitt, moved to adjourn until 7 o'clock this evening, to resume the unfinished business,

Mr. Rodman suggested that as a session to night would be in conflict with engagements of a number of gentlemen, to change the hour till 10 to-morrow, which was accordingly done, and

The Convention adjourned.

OUR NOON DISPATCHES.

Affairs at Memphis—Trial of Editors of the Avolanche.

MEMPHIS, TENN., Feb. 4.

Pending trial of Editors of the Avlaanche, for alleged contempt of Judge Hamlin's Court, and opposition to reconstruction measures, a squad of armed soldiers were placed within the Court. Lawyers remonstrated, and several left the Court room, saying they would not practice under such circumstances. Gen. Granger finally ordered the troops away, and the Court adjourned.

A New Counterfeit.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.

Counterfeit tens, National Market Bank, New York, are in circulation.

Steamer Burned.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 4.

The steamer Clara Dobson, valued at thirty thousand dollars, was burned here this morning.

The Cotton Tax, Etc.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.

The Cotton bill is finally promulgated. First, that all cotton grown in the United States, after the year 1867, shall be exempt from internal tax, and cotton imported from abroad, on and after 1st November, 1868, shall be exempt from duty. Approved, Feb'y 3, 1868.

The Anti-Contraction bill is a law after the lapse of ten days.

OUR MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Virginia Convention.

RICHMOND, Feb. 4.

The section of the Constitution requiring the Governor to have been a resident of the United States twenty years and a resident of Virginia for two years, adopted yesterday, was reconsidered and recommitted. The Salary of the Governor was fixed at $4,000.

There was another scene in the Convention to-day. Two members, who had quarreled in debate, started to leave the hall to fight, but were prevented by the sergeant-at-arms, who closed the doors.

A company to run steamers between Norfolk, New Orleans and Venezula, having a capital of $2,000,000, was chartered.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.

Senate—The special commission to enquire into destitution in Mississippi, reported a bill protecting persons making disclosures or testifying as witnesses. Passed.

The President was called on for all the instructions given Pope and Meade concerning the government of the 4th military District.

Reconstruction resumed, after which the supplemental tenure-of-office bill was discussed until adjournment.

House—Mr. Pile, of Missouri, asked leave to introdnce a resolution authorizing the Secretary of War, to commence a bridge over the Mississippi river at Rock Island.

Mr. Spaulding objected.

The Committee on Freedmen's affairs, were directed to enquire into outrages committed in Maury and Giles counties, Tennessee, and report measures of relief.

Mr. Logan asked but failed to obtain leave to introduce a resolution providing that after June 1st, 1868, U. S. bonds be taxed 2 per cent. semi-annually, deductable when the Coupons were presented for payment.

The bill for the protection of American citizens abroad was resumed. Several substitutes were offered, when the whole matter was postponed. The bill declaring the forfeiture of Southern Railroad lands, resumed. Mr. Eldridge, of Wisconsin, characterized it as cowardly, and uncharitable, saying that it sprung from a spirit of ill-will towards the Southern people for acts heretofore committed. He said the bill was conceived in a spirit of disolution instead of restoration; that it was antagonistic to the avowed objects of the war, that is violated the Constitution, and that the Czar of Russia, could not do more than this bill contemplates. Such legislation he held could never restore amnity and fraternity in the country.

Mr. Lawrence favored the passage of the bill and introduced a table to show the insufficiency of lands in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Arkansas and Florida to supply homesteads, nearly five millions of acres being needed for that purpose. Mr. Julian, who reported the bill, refused amendments exempting certain roads from its operation. Without taking final action, the House adjourned.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.

The increase of the public debt for January is about $12,000,000.

The Ways and Means Committee will hold night sessions until the new tax bill is completed.

It is semi-officially announced that the tax will be removed from all leading articles of industry, such as clothing, boots, shoes, leather, hats, soaps, spices and tin-ware.

Documents covering too columns of correspondence between the President and General Grant and others will be published to-morrow. It is too long to telegraph and as it involves the honor of high officials a synopsis is unsafe.

Georgia Convention, &c.

ATLANTA, Feb. 4.

Gen. Meade sent a communication to the Convention this morning, saying that he would give it $30,000 by the 10th of March, but that no further advances would be made, nor would he approve or undertake any financial scheme for its pay, involving the credit of the State or anticipating future revenue.

The Convention adopted a resolution to take a vote on relief to-morrow. Another delegate was badly beaten in a row.

Florida Convention.

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 4.

There was no quorum in the Convention to-day, notwithstanding which it proceeded to business, and went into secret session.

Riot in Savannah.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 4.

There was a large meeting of negroes at the African Church to-day to advocate the appointment of C. H. Hopkins in the stead of Mayor Anderson, now on trial before a military commission. A disturbuance commenced on the outside by resistance to the police, who attempted to arrest disorderly negroes. The negroes drew pistols on the police and the row became general. The police being reinforced drove off the rioters and succeeded in arresting the ringleaders. Lieut. Bell, of the police force, was shot in the head and the leg. Lieut. Howard, of the same, was knocked off of his horse by a brick. Several policemen and four or five negroes were slightly wounded. Nobody killed. The rioters were dispersed, but there is much excitement among them.

The Military Commission is still in session on Mayor Anderson's case. Examining witnesses.

The Alabama Election.

MONTGOMERY, Feb. 4.

There were 1681 votes cast to-day on the question of ratification of the Constitution. Two whites, candidates for office, voted. All other votes were cast by negroes.

Gen. Meade and staff left for Mobile to-day.

RICHMOND, Feb. 4.

The Supreme Court of Virginia to-day reversed a decision of a lower court, sentencing a prisoner to be hanged, on the ground that he had not been indicted by a grand jury.

SUPREME COURT.—Opinions delivered as follows:

BY PEARSON, C. J. In Bunting vs. McIlhenny, from New Hanover, judgment set aside and judgment of non-suit. In State vs. Parker, from New Hanover, no error. In March vs. Phelps, from Davidson, judgment affirmed. In State vs. Elam, from Franklin, judgment reversed and judgment for defendant.

PROSPECTUS.

THE

NORTH CAROLINIAN,

A DAILY,

Democratic Newspaper,

PUBLISHED AT

RALEIGH, N. C.

W. A. HEARNE, JOHN W. DUNHAM,

EDITORS.

The NORTH CAROLINIAN is Democratic in its principles. It is unalterably opposed to Negro Suffrage, Military rule, and Reconstruction upon the basis of Congressional enactment.

Its Editors believe and teach that this is a

WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT,

FRAMED BY THE BRAINS, AND

WON BY THE BLOOD OF WHITE MEN,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF WHITE MEN,

AND THAT IT SHOULD BE

CONTROLLED BY WHITE MEN ONLY.

As there is but ONE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION professing these sentiments and committed to their maintenance, the NORTH CAROLINIAN will steadily advocate the abandonment of all other party names and organizations, and yield a hearty co-operation with that organization—the NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

THE NORTH CAROLINIAN,

Will contain the freshest News, by telegraph and otherwise. Full reports of all Legislative Assemblies will be furnished its readers.

Particular attention will be paid to State news, and each number will contain a complete epitome of every incident reported in the State press.

MARKETS will be carefully reported.

The Weekly North Carolinian

Is the largest and handsomest paper in the State and will be filled with choice family reading and selected literary matter.

PRICE OF SUBSCRIPTION:

DAILY, one year,	$8.00
" six months,	4.00
WEEKLY, one year,	3.00
" six months,	2.00

Terms—Cash in advance.

We respectfully request our friends in all portions of the State to interest themselves in our behalf.

RATES OF ADVERTISING LIBERAL.

☞ As the North Carolinian retains the subscription list which it had as a semi-weekly at Wilson, it offers superior inducements to advertisers.

All Communications on business should be addressed to

THOS. J. LEE,

The North Carolinian.

Raleigh, Wednesday, February 5, 1868.

☞ The North Carolinian is published every morning in the building North-East corner of Fayetteville and Hargett Streets—up stairs.

☞ Entrance under the sign of NICHOLS, GORMAN & NEATHERY, Book and Job Printers.

PERSONAL.

Major Jos. E. Engelhard, editor of the Wilmington Journal, is in the city, and paid us a visit yesterday. Maj. Englehard represents one of the best Journals in the State, and is commanding that support its transcendant merits entitle it to.

Maj. E. is here as a delegate to the Convention of white men which assembles in this city to-day.

THE MATTER OF PUBLIC PRINTING.

General Canby has, we understand, taken a hand in the matter of printing for the Convention.

Hereafter resolutions to "print" are, we learn, to be submitted by the Convention to Col. Bomford with a request to have "printed."

The reason assigned for this order is that the "trooly loil" were going it rather too strong on "printing"—slinging printers' ink rather too heavy, in fact, for "the relief of the people."

This indiscriminate system of printing was, doubtless, very amusing to a loyal few, but Gen. Canby, with singular good sense, thinks a printer's bill of five or six thousand dollars a little strong—almost too heavy for the "great moral ideas" of the times.

MAKING HISTORY.

The following circular was found on the desks of the delegates to the "Cotton Shirt and Copperas Breeches" Convention yesterday morning. As will be seen, it is designed to hand all the members down to the "archives of gravity" in the order in which they respond.

We can but commend the loyal enterprise manifested in this instance, but we hope to be able to present a brief sketch of the personal history of some of the delegates in advance of the issuance of the proposed book.

The following is the circular:

DEAR SIR:—In view of the aspersions which have been cast upon the Constitutional Convention now in session, it has been deemed advisable by some of the friends of reconstruction to publish a brief sketch of the personal history of each delegate, for the double purpose of correcting misrepresentations and of showing to the people of North Carolina, and the Union at large, the character of the gentlemen who compose this body.

If you have no objection to the plan, please furnish me, at once, with the necessary information, in the following order, viz:

1. The place of your birth, and full name.
2. Your opportunities of education.
3. Your occupation or profession.
4. Your political opinions previous to the rebellion.
5. Your experience during the rebellion.
6. Have you been in public life before? if so, your course.
7. Any other information you may think interesting.

This publication is not undertaken with a design of reflecting upon the members of the opposition. If they choose to furnish the information, they will have no reason to complain of unfair treatment.

These sketches will be published in book form, at a price barely sufficient to cover expenses, and will be ready for delivery by the adjournment of the Convention.

Yours respectfully,
W. M. COLEMAN.

P. S. Direct to me at Standard office.

SPECIMEN BRICKS.

There is a point beyond which forbearance ceases to be a virtue, and when men in authority avail themselves of their position to slander their countrymen, the wretches deserve no charity at our hands, and without mercy, we shall mete to them the measures of their reward.

We hope that our readers have noticed the minority report on suffrage, presented by Abraham Congleton and Thomas J. Candler, recommending suffrage for the negro without qualification or restriction save of age and residence, and the disfranchisement of those of the white men of North Carolina, denied the ballot by the Howard Amendment; and the several acts of Congress for the regulation of reconstruction. The majority of the committee on suffrage, contented itself with recommending universal amnesty coupled with universal suffrage. The native radicals, who claim to be white men, are more vindictive towards our own people than were the men of Northern birth, who are members of the committee.

As we have said above, the report was submitted by Abraham Congleton, of Carteret, who was denounced by the public press during the canvass, in November, as a hog thief, and by Thomas J. Candler, of Buncombe, who volunteered—was not conscribed—in the first company raised in his county, and commanded by Capt. (afterwards) Gov. Z. B. Vance.—He was afterwards elected or appointed to a position in the 60th N. C., Regiment, we believe, and was transferred to that command. For some cause, to us unknown, he was denied the promotion he desired, and taking offence thereat, he gallantly (?) went over to the enemy.

These facts doubtless commended him to the "truly loyal" of his district, and to his conduct during the war, is he indebted for his seat in the Convention. Gracious God! upon what times have we fallen, when creatures, such as these are chosen to frame the organic law for the government of eight millions of Americans!

CITY AND STATE.

The Conservative Convention.

Quite a number of distinguished gentlemen from various counties in the State, are in the city, delegates to this Convention. It promises to be a large and respectable body, composed as it is of the intelligence and respectability of North Carolina.

A Scene.

A nice little scene of wool gathering occurred yesterday between Mary Taylor and Mary Norwood, (l. w. c.) an affair of the heart entirely, all growing out of the unrestrained gushing affection of the two Marys, for a gay but deceiving son of Afriques sunny clime.

"My bird has fled said poor Jane Grey."

Mary Taylor was returned to Court under a bond of one hundred dollars.

Lo! The Conquering Hero is Coming.

Gen. Abbott and Mr. Ragland, of the Ham-Anglican, have received a dispatch from Manager Canby, announcing that his kingship may be looked for in this city about the last of the week. If His Military Highness could happen here during the meeting of the Conservative Convention, he would have a fine opportunity of contrasting the conventions elected, respectively, by the white men and the kangaroos, et id omne genus. Come along Canby.

From the Country.

We learn of frequent and constant robberies in the country round about Raleigh. Indeed this unpleasant state of affairs extends throughout the whole country. There seems to be no method or means whereby to prevent this state of lawlessness and crime.

Coming to Town.

Our Pacha, Canby, is coming to the city to witness, not participate, in the festivities of the "Loyal Glee Club" of this city.

His visit will doubtless have something to do with the pay of his Minstrels. It is understood that General Canby has decided to order the Treasurer to pay the delegates, provided the Convention will levy a tax to replace the money. In other words, we are to witness the robbing of Peter to pay Paul, the down-trodden distressed and oppressed people of North Carolina, unfortunately for themselves, personating the cheer ful Peter.

Enterprising—Very.

We learn that the Bishop, (Atkinson) during his stay in Raleigh, will deliver a Lecture before the Young Men's Christian Association.

Standard, of yesterday.

Rather behind the times, old Rip Van W. The Bishop's lecture was delivered just twelve hours before you announced the coming off of the same.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA,

NEW HANOVER COUNTY.

Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions, December Term, 1867.

Mitchell & Huggins, vs. Isaac A. Peck, } Original Attachment.

IT APPEARING TO THE COURT THAT THE defendant, Isaac A. Peck, is an inhabitant of another State, so that the ordinary process of the law cannot be served on him; it is therefore ordered, by the Court, that publication be made in the Wilmington Journal, for SIX weeks, notifying the defendant that, unless he appears at the next term of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions of New Hanover County, to be held on the second Monday of March next, and replevy and plead, or demur, judgment by default will be rendered against him, and the money confessed by the garnishee condemned for the satisfaction of the same. Teste, ROBT. B. WOOD, Jr.,
Clerk New Hanover County Court.

jan 25.

We give the County Court of New Hanover, the benefit of our columns, to the extent of publishing the above one time.

Now the reader will bear in mind that this same Isaac A. Peck, is a Sergeant-at-Arms, in the Congo Convention of North Carolina, an officer as much a stranger to the legislative bodies of North Carolina, as Mr. Peck is individually a stranger to our people.

The people of North Carolina have a right to object to this new and entirely useless officer, and they do object to the appointment of an individual to that position, who is not only not identified with them in interest, but by reason of his utter want of character, can have nothing in common with an honest people. We shall keep the fact before the people, that this irresponsible body, claiming for itself constitutionality, and delegating to itself extraordinary powers and privileges, is paying no attention to the wants of the people, but that composed as it is of a set of political vampires, it is spending the people's money, by creating new workmen and unnecessary officers, for the benefit of such radical pets as come with their loyalty stamped with want of principle and incapacity, and whose greatest recommendation is dishonor.

A Veteran of 1812.

The Petersburg Index, of Tuesday, has the following:

An old man named Crosley—a veteran of the war of 1812—arrived in this city yesterday from the South, en route to Washington. He is accompanied by his family, all of whom are in destitute circumstances. He represents himself as being from Atlanta, Ga., where on the evacuation of that city, he lost his all. He was furnished transportation as far as Richmond, and was while here, offered accommodations. He bears the scars of wounds received during the last war with England.

The N. C. Presbyterian speaks most encouragingly of the prospects of Davidson College. There are already fifty students in attendance and others are daily arriving. The present Freshman Class numbers 27 members, a larger class than was usual before the war. We are glad to chronicle such evidences of prosperity in our institutions of learning.

John Mullaly, the fearless editor of that sterling Democratic Journal, published in New York, is on a lecturing tour in the South. He lectured in Augusta, Ga., on Friday last to an immense audience.

Col. A. W. Shaffer has been appointed by Chief Justice Chase, additional register in bankruptcy for the 6th Congressional District in this State. Col. Shaffer will reside in Charlotte.

F. W. Ahem, of Charlotte, has been appointed U. S. Commissioner for the 6th Congressional District. The Western Democrat says that it is a good appointment.

General News.

The telegraph some days since, announced the arrest of Mr. Jones, the Treasurer of the State of Georgia, by the military authorities. No cause was assigned. Mr. Jones has been released on parole until next July. It is believed that the arrest arose from the refusal of that officer to deliver the books and papers belonging to his office, to the officer detailed by Gen. Meade to succeed him. The books of Mr. Jones, and of Mr. Burns, the State Comptroller, have not yet been found. They are beyond the reach of Gen. Meade.

Mr. Frelinghuysen, in the course of his remarks, in Congress lately, said: Should a war of races occur at the South, an army at the North would arise and assert the supremacy of the negro race.

When the new Reconstruction bill is passed it should be presented to the South, pinned upon a bayonet.—Peoatice.

Douglas Jerrold said Eve ate the forbidden fruit that she might have the pleasure of dressing.

40 YEARS. DEEMS' Southern Hepatic Pills, are made and sold by the discoverer, that old and well-tried remedy for all diseases caused by DISEASED LIVER, which is attended with all the symptoms of Consumptions. In 1825 the Discoverer was reduced to a mere skeleton, and was pronounced by three of the most skillful physicians of one of our largest cities, to be in an advanced stage of Consumption, and beyond cure. He then began to try experiments on himself, and after many efforts discovered (by the help of an Indian) the remedy which wrought in him a perfect cure. He is now in the 78th year of his age, and at this advanced stage of life retains an excellent constitution. In 42 years itinerating in the ministry, he has seen more than a thousand persons, who were given up to die of Consumption as beyond cure, dragging out a miserable existence, not knowing what ailed them, they were cured by these Hepatic Pill, and afterwards enjoyed the most perfect health. There is in these Pills a peculiar combination with an article which has probably never before been used as a medicine. They are highly strengthening, and mild in their action on the bowels. In the preparation of these very superior and excellent Pills, no cost or trouble is spared to insure the greatest possible degree of perfection, in point of utility, excellence and comfort; the advantage in these Pills, therefore, is that a cure must be radical and complete, without the necessity of incorporating such drugs into our Pills as to break down the system in one part to remove the disease in another, and leave the patient to groan under worse disease than heretofore. Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been used so extensively, they need no recommendation, their merits are so well known by their results, which has given them a reputation that has or ought them to into great demand. They are therefore destined to be, at no distant day, the only remedy recognized and used by the people where bilious diseases are so prevalent. They can be sent to any point in the United States by mail or express. Price:—25 cents per box, $2 50 per doz. By the gross, $18. The cash must either accompany the order for the Medicine, or it will be sent C. O. D. Address G. W. DEEMS, tf 28 Calhoun street, Baltimore, Md.

[From the Land We Love.]

Right to Vote.

It was a glorious thing they said,—
This freedom that they talked about,—
This right to come and go, without
Question, or beck, or bar, instead
Of slavish cringing,—as they said.

I'm sure I have not found it so:
I'd rather hear my master say—
"We cannot spare you, Tom, to-day;
Your work counts double, as you know."
Ah, well—I own I liked it so!

Yes, I am free to straggle west,
Or idle northward, if I choose:
Who marks how many days I lose?
Who praises when I do my best?
Who cares to chide? Aye—east or west.

You talk of 'suffrage'—Did the vote
I cast on Monday at the polls,
Like any white man,—mend the holes
Worn in my old plantation coat?
I've got the suffering—and the vote.

My wife keeps crooning in my ear;
My ragged wild ones at my heels,
Rave of the merry cotton-fields,
And of the happy huskings cheer;
And moan and murmuring fill my ear.

O, for one hour of the old days!
When all the 'quarters' came at night,
To gossip in our cabin bright,
And dance around the pine-knots' blaze,—
We'll never, never know such days!

Then all the cost and all the care
We left within our master's hand,
Without a wish to understand—;
Believing the division fair,—
Th' exemption, our's, and his,—the care.

No Christmas visions of brave clothes,
And dainties from 'the house' arise
To taunt my children's gaping eyes,
As shivering at the coming snows,
They cower beneath their tatter'd clothes.

Instead—I have your leave to vote!
Why, Sirs! my imps who've learned to write
Their nameless names in black and white,
Lack food and fire and shoe and coat:—
Give these—and keep your right to vote!

Hints to Skaters—Not from Hall's Journal of Health.

1.—Always remember to draw on your boots previous to putting on your skates; you will then have a better foundation for heel spikes and will stand firmum.

2.—In cutting the Spread Eagle, be careful not to spread out too thin. We have known an ambitious young man to sustain a perpendicular fracture and ruin his trowsers in essaying this difficult feat.

3.—When skating against the wind keep your mouth firmly closed and both eyes firmly open. When skating with the wind do likewise; when asked to drink follow the same description.

4.—When skating with an old maid, never inquire when she learned to skate, it might strain her memory.

5.—When you gallantly offer to put on a lady's skates, and she declines, never insist, there may be rents in her hose, or she may be gifted with No. Nines.

6.—Remember that the chief end of a good skatist is the end the head is on. The other end is good in its place, but its place is not making bowls on the surface of the Rink.

7.—Stray remarks about good understandings and thick ankles should not be indulged in during the skating season.

8.—Red-headed girls are the best skating partners—a warm red—say 18 carrots fine. Red hair is good anywhere save in butter.

9.—When asked whether you can cut the grape vine always tell the truth about it. Emulate the example of the immortal GEORGE—who bravely owned to chopping down the plum tree.

10.—When your girl shows symptoms of weariness, hollowness, uneasiness or giddiness, make a break for the refreshment stand. Oysters, hot coffee, rink sandwiches, and sich, will soon restore her centre of gravity.

11.—Never skate backwards until you know the coast is clear, as you may by that means "go back" on a lady friend, whose big brother—if near about—might cause a serious collision.

12.—In cutting the "circle" always toe in well, so that you may "swing" in time to prevent collisions. For particulars we refer you to A. J., of the White House, Washington, D. C.

13.—In trying to halt suddenly never attempt to sit down. We have known young skaters to be "halt," "lame," &c., for a week after a violent attempt to enforce "squatter sovereignty" while under full headway.

14.—In skating with a lady it is customary to "lock arms," but not skates. This hint holds good in part of the country.

15.—Some people object to ladies skating on the ground that it is indelicate. This is an error—it is not half so immodest as a girl's recess at a District school in summer time.

16.—Never wrap your skates up in a Radical newspaper—the lie will ruin the steel.—Brick Pomeroy.

Set Him Again.

A very worthy fisherman by the name of Grizzle was drowned some time since, and all search for his body proved unavailing. After it had been in the water some months, however, it was discovered floating on the surface, and taken to the shores, whereupon Mr. Smith was dispatched to convey the intelligence to the much afflicted widow.

"Well, Mrs. Grizzle, we have found Mr. Grizzle's body."

"You don't say so!"

"Yes, we have—the jury has sot on it, and found it full of eels!"

"You don't say Mr. Grizzle's body is full of eels?"

"Yes, it is, and we want to know what you will have done with it?"

"Why, how many eels do you think there is in him?"

"Why, about a bushel."

"Well, then, I think you had better send the eels up to the house, and set him again."

An Irishman, passing through a village near Chester, England, saw a crowd of people approaching, which made him inquire what was the matter. He was answered, "a man was going to be buried." "Oh," he replied, "I'll stop to see that, for we carry them in our own country."

A fellow, on being asked to write a testimonial for a patent clothes wringer, produced the following: "I am immensely pleased with it. I bought a jag of wood which proved to be green and unfit to burn. I run the whole load through your clothes wringer, and I have used the wood for kindling ever since."

A lady who was very modest and submissive before marriage, was observed by a friend to use her tongue pretty freely after. "There was a time when I imagined she had none." "Yes," said the husband with a sigh, "but its very long since."

Monsieur Jacqeminat, once, in an address to the electors of Paris, observed with a vehement shrug of the shoulders, "Gentlemen, I have shed all my blood for my country, and I am willing to shed it again."

A deaf and dumb person, being asked to give his ideas of forgiveness, took a pencil and wrote: It is the sweetness which flowers yield when trampled upon.

A Radical Mayor in Massachusetts has refused to let a theater company play the "Black Crook." He says if they will just call it the "Colored Crook," they may go on with their show.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS OF SPIRITS OF TURPENTINE.

The Seaboard Inland Air Line, Via Portsmouth, Va., is now prepared to ship Spirits Turpentine to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, its steamers having bern arranged for that purpose.

This Air Line Route, from the fact of its avoiding transshipment from one Steamer to another, to which other lines are subject, and being the direct line between the Carolinas and the Northern Cities, with daily communication to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, and to Boston a Steamer every five days, offers great facilities for shipping, and is in advance of all other routes from three to five days and at as low rates.

In shipping from the Northern Cities, or from Carolina, be careful to ship via Portsmouth, and by the Steamship Lines connecting with and forming part of this Route.

From Boston, Merchants and Miner's Line, E. Sampson, Agent, end Central Wharf.

From New York, Old Dominion Steamship Company, Pier 37, North river, M. L. McCready President. Office 187 Greenwich street.

From Philadelphia, Clyde Steamers, 14 South Delaware Avenue, W. P. Clyde, Agent.

Annamessic Line, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Depot, J. L. Wilson, Agent.

From Baltimore, Bay Line Steamers, foot of Union Dock, R. L. Poor, Agent.

All claims for loss, damage, or overcharge, promptly settled by applying to
JAS. MCCARRICK, Trace Agent,
Seaboard Inland Air Line, Portsmouth, Va.

The Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line, having been consolidated under one Management from Weldon to Baltimore, offer greater facilities to shippers of freight to and from Baltimore than any other line, and guarantees safety of freight and prompt settlement of all claims.

LATEST NEWS TO THE FARMERS OF North Carolina.

Your attention is called to my large stock of Agricultural Implements, Iron Steel, &c., &c.

Corn and Cotton Planters, Corn Shellers, Hay, Shuck and Corn Stalk Cutters, Fan Mills, Plows, of every kind, Harrows and Cultivators, Spades, Shovels Forks, Brier Hooks, Iron Axles, Springs, Cart & Wagon Boxes, &c.

I call particular attention to BILLUP'S CENTREBOARD COTTON SCRAPER, and to BILLUP'S DIXIE PLOW. The first is warranted to be the best Scraper ever yet invented, and the Farmers are requested to test its merits in connection with any other kind. The Dixie Plow is freer from choking than any other yet made; will pass through the ground with less power, and do better work than any other kind. This is no vain boast. 'Tis easy to claim superiority; hence I ask a trial.

If Farmers are not satisfied, the money will be refunded.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. READ THE STATEMENT BELOW, AND DESPAIR NOT.

WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE:

Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many Physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure.—During the last Spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well.

I am, sir,
Yours, with respect and gratitude,
W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

WILSON, N. C., Sept. 15, 1867.

DR. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir:—In 1862 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician—Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks, my son became and remains entirely well.

Yours truly,
J. B. DANIEL.

CHRONIC LIVER COMPLAINT CURED.

This is to certify that I was cured of Chronic Liver Complaint by Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, after having been confined to my bed and house for a long time, and trying various medicines without benefit.

I know of several others in this County, cured through the use of the Rosadalis, and it can be found in nearly every house in my neighborhood, and they all praise it as a great medicine.

THOMAS THORN.
